CLASS HISTORY

It all started one sunny day August 29, 1947, when thirteen little boys and girls marched proudly up the stairs to the first grade. The school has never been the same. Sitting at her desk, almost no bigger than the rest of us, was Mrs. Frances Pitts, who very patiently pulled us through the first grade.

During the next several years, our little marching group steadily progressed to higher education. To help us with our education were the never tiring, always understanding teachers, Mrs. Vera Mae Pitts, Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. Pike. In these years, Carolyn Six, Richard Andis, Sherry Nickles, Patricia Wilder, Don Roberts, Preston Thompson, James Hiner, Mark Stockwell, Bessie Noble, Ruth Enyart, Richard Paul, Tony Hauntz, Nancy Earnest, David Mann, and Jim Emmons came and all departed except Jim and David.

In 1955, we entered high school looking forward to initiation, but something happened, perhaps we were too tough for them; anyway, initiation never developed. We elected our class officers who were: President, Nancy Earnest; Vice-President, JoAnn Kramer; Secretary, Linda Winkler; Treasurer, Jim Emmons. Mrs. Potts was our sponsor.

The highlight of our Sophomore year was choosing class rings. We sponsored a formal Valentine Dance, the first event of this kind for our school. Decorating was lots of fun and the dance was more of a success than we had anticipated. Four more members joined our class, they were: Carol Buchanan, Rosemary Miller, George VanScyoc and Jack Webb. Our class officers were: President, JoAnn Kramer; Vice-President, Linda Winkler; Secretary, Bob Cooley; Treasurer, Rosemary Miller. Mr. Hine was our sponsor.

The Junior year was the year for which we had been waiting. It brought fun, but also work-making money for our Senior trip. We presented a play entitled "Beans For Breakfast." We also gave a skit, "Baby Blues." Winning first prize was helped considerably by our two "babies," Jim and Jack. This year our class officers were: President, Bob Cooley, Vice-President, JoAnn Kramer; Secretary, Carol Buchanan; Treasurer, Jim Emmons; with Mrs. White as our sponsor. We had one new member, Bob Baker.

Our marching group finally reached its goal. We were Seniors! We chose Mrs. White for our sponsor. The officers were: President, Pat Wolf; Vice-President, Bob Cooley; Secretary, Linda Winkler; Treasurer, JoAnn Kramer. This year was a busy year for us, we had many things to accomplish. We presented another play and produced our Rambler. Our big event was the Senior Trip. Then last but not least came our Graduation. Eleven of our nineteen completed all twelve wonderful years together.

PROPHECY

Amid the uproar and the shouts of the fans, I sit watching a basketball game between Arlington and Morristown. However, my mind is not on the game. I am remembering Arlington as it was twenty years ago when I graduated. I was in the class of '59. As I sit here, thinking about the "old days", I suddenly notice that three of my classmates are here.

There's Steve Kennedy. "Hello, Steve. How has the last twenty years treated you?"

"Oh, just fine. I'm the head Santa Claus at Macy's department store, and if all goes well, I may get promoted and sent to the North Pole branch."

See: there's Bob Cooley with his thirteen children. "Hi, Bob! How are you tonight?"

"Oh, I'm pretty well snowed under with diapers and baby bottles. Look there; Bobby Junior just fell off the bleachers! I've got to run."

"My, how he has aged! He should take some of Rosemary Miller's special brand vitamin pills. Rosemary takes them and she says that they work wonders. Oh, by the way, poor Rosemary is confined to her bed."

There's George Van Scyoc. I hear he's a big fashion designer in Paris. He's home on vacation. "Hello, George. How are things in the fashion world?"

"Fashionable."

Let's meet at Joyner's for a coke like the "old days" after the game.

(Later at Joyner's)

"Have you seen Jo Ann Kramer lately?"

"Oh, yes, but her name is Bridget Barlow now. She's a fiery movie actress, and I hear that she has all the qualifications for being a star!"

"Have you heard about Jane Kemple? She's a gun moll, shoplifter, and accomplice to Bob Baker, who is a professional safecracker. I guess they're having a bang-up time."

"Everyone in the class is proud of Jack and Fay Webb. Such sweet people! He is in the ministry and they are doing missionary work in darkest Africa. I asked them if they thought it unsafe, but they said, "No, the darker, the better."

"Have you heard that Lynn Catt has a title? He's Mr. America, and I hear that all the girls are crazy over him. They call him "Killer Catt"."

"I took my son to the circus the other day, and I saw Kay Van Osdol there. She is billed as the fat lady, and also the elephant trainer. She said it was a wonderful occupation if she could only train the elephants not to step on her feet."

"One that really surprised me is Pat Wolf. Because of a broken heart over a love affair, he has turned very studious. He is now an English professor at Harvard. I hear that he's tutoring Mrs. White's grandchildren."

"What nerve that Diane Stout has! She's an alligator wrestler in Florida. Those poor alligators haven't a chance."

"Linda Winkler is a professional witch. She spends her time riding around on a broom, making brew, and frightening innocent children. Poor little things."

"I hear that David Mann is having an awful time. He just secured his tenth bride. The only trouble is that he forgot to divorce the other nine."

"I saw Ivanna Farlow the other day. She's been spending her years riding on freight cars and eating from tin cans. She says that it's a nice occupation, except that she's too short to jump on the cars."

"Becky Patterson has married a mortician. She keeps house in the mortuary and has raised a bunch of fine little undertakers."

"I heard that Carol Buchanan is leaving soon for her vacation. She is going to be the first lady to go to the moon. They say that she's a demon in a rocket ship!"

"Oh, here comes Jim Emmons. I guess it was meant for Jimmy to be the black-sheep and Don Juan of the class. Of course, he isn't used to working. Now he's only a bum, but he sure makes a hit with the girls."

"Time really flies when you are reminiscing. It's time to "bug out", as we used to say. But maybe in another twenty years, we can all come together from our different walks of life, and meet again."

SENIOR ACTIVITIES

Senior Class Play

The Senior Class, divided into two casts presented the three-act comedy, "A Ready Made Family" on April 16th and 17th.

Agnes Martyn, a widow on vacation, met an old sweetheart, Henry Turner, a widower; and they became engaged. Neither told the other of the children at home: three in one household and two in the other. The youngsters, having heard of the big surprise, became antagonistic to the marriage and planned to upset the matrimonial applecart by acting their worst before their prospective stepparents. After spells of baby talk, fits of epilepsy, kleptomaniac actions, and persistent talk of an operation, Henry emerged victorious and the "kids" accepted their new parents.

Senior Trip

Saturday morning May 2nd, the seniors left for an eight day trip to Washington and New York City. The first night was spent in Pittsburgh. Sightseeing in Washington kept us busy until noon of May 5th. We journeyed on to New York and spent an enjoyable three days seeing the Statue of Liberty, Radio City, the United Nations Building and Manhattan Island. Visits to New York's stores, restaurants and theaters resulted in much pleasure. New freindships, slumber parties, pillow fights, and midnight snacks will be long remembered by the Seniors of '59.

The Arlington basketball team proved their ability to play ball in the sectional tourney. They won their first two thrilling games by close margins. In the final game of the tourney, although they were beaten by Rushville, the Wildcats played excellently. They came within three points of the Lions four times during the last half of the game. The Arlington fans were very proud of their team and its coach.

The Junior Class presented their play, "Stop The Wedding", October 9th and 10th with Mr. and Mrs. Wilt as directors.

The return of "Popcorn" Jones from the navy on the day of Lorie's wedding starts a series of gay events that includes stopping the wedding, the arrival of a crate of monkeys, the advent of an Eskimo from Alaska, and the taking over of the Mayor's office.

But the last straw comes when the students of the local college take over under the direction of "Popcorn" and plan to over throw the politicians, of whom His Honor, the Mayor, reigns supreme. However, the Mayor had a plan of his own and carried it out on the day of Lorie and Popcorn's wedding through the use of a record player.

The characters were well portrayed, and the play was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.
